Remembering the Dead

A mass to remember all who have died this past year will be held at 7.30pm next Wednesday Night 19th November in Newmarket Church.

You are all invited to come along to pray together as a community for their Eternal Happiness and also for those who mourn their loss

The Stations of the Cross: the devotion of the Stations of the Cross had its origin in the practice of pilgrims to Jerusalem following the route Jesus carried his cross on the way to Calvary. A station is a stopping place lying on a journey. Symbolic routes, reflecting the Via Crucis, (Way of the Cross) were developed in different parts of Europe. The development was supported by St Francis of Assisi and the Franciscans who had become the care takers of the holy places in the Holy Land. By 1731AD Stations were installed in all churches, fourteen plaques with reliefs or paintings arranged along the church walls. The devotion is associated with Friday, especially the Fridays of Lent.

A number of years ago there was an anonymous donation of £1000(€1269.73) to replace the stations in Newmarket Church with ones that could be easily understood. In more recent times there was another donation of €1200 towards the stations. The stations now installed were originally in the Diocese of Kerry in 19th century and cost €5000.

Songs of Praise

A festival of hymns in the popular 'Songs of Praise' TV program format will take place in Kilnasoolagh church on Sunday 16th of November at 7pm. The Very Rev. Dr. Philip Knowles, former Dean of Cashel, will present the hymns and will also play the music. The festival will be introduced by Canon Bob Hanna, Rector of Kilnasoolagh.

At the ceremony donations will be invited to carry out necessary roof and gutter repairs to the church, €4,000 is required to complete these essential repairs and community participation in funding the project will be greatly appreciated. All are invited to attend and enjoy some inspirational communal singing.

Newmarket –on- Fergus Senior Citizens Annual Christmas party will take place on Sunday December 7th at The Inn at Dromoland.
