What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us.

— Ralph Waldo Emerson

There are only two ways to live your life. One is as though nothing is a miracle.

The other is as though everything is a miracle.

— Albert Einstein

Happiness depends on what you can give, not on what you can get.

— Swami Chinmayananda

God is silence and is most easily reached in silence.

— Baha' ad-din Naqshband

If you want others to be happy, practise compassion. If you want to be happy, practise compassion.

Reflection : It is a sad reflection on two thousand years of Christianity that there are still so many divisions among those who claim to follow Christ. However, this is a reminder to us that reconciliation is not something that we merely wish for or give approval to. Being reconciled to those from whom we are estranged can be very difficult. Wounds do not easily heal and recognising our need to forgive and be forgiven takes courage and humility. The readings remind us that our faith response to the difficulties we face as a church must always be rooted in the compassion of God. We are also reminded that teaching and learning will always be part of what we do as a Christian community.
