Cancellation of 6.30pm Mass in Wells - Sat 28th September

The All Ireland hurling final replay has been rescheduled for next Saturday evening September 28th at 5.00pm. We are conscious that very many parishioners will be travelling to Croke Park for the occasion and many others will be watching the match at home on that evening. After some consultation, we have decided to cancel the 6.30pm Mass in the Wells church on next Saturday evening and just have one Mass celebrated at 7.30pm in Newmarket. Mass will be celebrated as usual on Sunday morning in the Wells at 10.00am.

Strong and faithful God,

*As we come together for this contest,
We ask you to bless these athletes.*

*Keep them safe from injury and harm,
Instil in them respect for each other,
And reward them for their perseverance.*

*Lead us all to the rewards of your Kingdom
Where you live and reign for ever and ever.*

Amen.

An Imperfect Storm by Kevin Haugh

Kevin Haugh, the Clare-born author of An Imperfect Storm is a cancer survivor. His book is compelling reading for anyone, but particularly those who have had a cancer diagnosis or who are close to someone who has been unfortunate enough to suffer from the disease. Edited by Tríona Marren O'Grady (Newmarket-on-Fergus), An Imperfect Storm is available in bookshops and on Amazon.

Author royalties go to the Mid-Western Cancer
Foundation.

Thanksgiving for Harvest

The Annual Harvest Thanksgiving service will be held in Kilnasoolagh Parish Church this Sunday evening, 22nd of September at 7.30pm. The guest speaker for the thanksgiving is Fr. Sean McDonagh, a Columban priest and Irish Eco Theologian. He has ministered in the Philippines in the 1970s and 1980s and is now based in Co. Tipperary. Fr. McDonagh has written 9 books including Climate Change: The Challenge to all of us, Greening the Christian Millennium, Care for the Earth and also Dying for Water. In 2011 he was awarded the Partnership for Global Justice Award in New York. Leading worship will be Rev. Canon Bob Hanna, rector of the parish. Singing will be led by The Clare Music Circle under the directorship of Kieran O'Gorman. The church will be decorated with flowers, fruit and vegetables for the festival, the produce of harvest. All are welcome to attend.
