St. Patrick's Day with a difference! "Connecting Clare"

This year, Clare County Council is organising and presenting an online St Patrick's Day event with the theme of 'Connecting Clare', and everyone can get involved. The Council is inviting Clare people at home and abroad to celebrate St Patrick's Day together, by actively participating in the online event or by joining in on the day as a member of a global audience. The event is a wonderful opportunity for Clare people to showcase their talents across the globe so get creative, get thinking and get involved! Prizes to be won! A Columbarium for the Cathedral, Ennis.

Plans are underway for the inclusion of a Columbarium in the Cathedral. A columbarium is a chapel within the Cathedral used for the interment of the cremated remains of our faithful departed.

Following consultation and adoption by the Ennis Parish Pastoral Council and the Parish Finance Committee, permission to proceed was granted by the Killaloe Diocesan Trust. Planning permission for the project was granted by Clare County Council and a company has been engaged to carry out the necessary work. The Columbarium will be located in the former Mortuary Chapel of the Cathedral. The Columbarium will provide a sacred resting place for 240 souls and offer families the consolation to pray there in a comfortable, prayerful, sacred environment. Preliminary work has been carried out but progress is delayed due to Covid-19 restrictions.

Are you aged 65 years and over?
Would you like to help us understand if

Discussion Cafés

are useful as a strategy to enable nursing students and members of the older population to teach and learn from each other?

If you choose to participate:

You will participate in an online intergenerational discussion café

You will be invited to complete a survey questionnaire focusing on what intergenerational learning took place and evaluating how effective discussion cafés are as a way of getting people from different generations to talk with and learn from each other.

If interested, please contact: Dr Dympna Tuohy, Department of Nursing and Midwifery, University of Limerick, Email: dympna.tuohy@ul.ie OR intergenerationalcafes@gmail.com

A Celtic Lenten Journey

We are a group of liturgical musicians from Dublin parishes have put together a Lenten series entitled "A Celtic Lenten Journey - Harp, Voice and Violin" from the Avila Carmelite Centre, Donnybrook, Dublin. The First Part is now available and reflects in Word and music on the final discourses of Jesus as he journeys to Jerusalem and celebrates the last supper. We usually run reflections through the year in parishes/religious communities to help people enter into various seasons but being unable to do so this year we have offered it online.

New Publication: A very interesting and timely book will be launched on Thursday 4th March by Messenger Publications (The Irish Messenger is another of their publications we all know). The book is written by the well-known scholar, environmentalist and Columban Priest Fr. Sean McDonagh. The book titled Robots, Ethics, and the Future of Jobs. The book acknowledges that we have much to appreciate about new technologies. But have we considered the deeper implications of this technology in the absence of regulations? In this new book environmentalist, scholar, priest and author Sean McDonagh says that we need to understand and address the potential repercussions of developing technology in an ethical vacuum. This book argues that respect for human rights must be at the heart of these new technologies. A timely and deep reflection on call to care for the earth and respect the dignity of the individual, especially those who own least in society. Good reading for anyone interested in this subject.
